Charity boosted by NBL Namibian Ambassador programme

For immediate release

Well-known Optometrist, Mr Stuart Super, won N$ 5000 as part of the NBL Namibian Ambassador programme for his nomination of Dr. Helena Ndume - the winner of September.

Per the programme's statute this qualified Dr. Super to choose a charity to benefit from an additional N$ 5.000 under the programme's budget. Dr Super chose the "Winter Warmer" initiative of the Dr. Christina Swart-Opperman AIDS Trust. According to Dr. Christina Swart Opperman this money will be kept in the bank until winter 2011 when many Namibians will once again need a blanket or warm clothing to face the cold winter nights.

Launched in June 2010 as part of NBL's 90th anniversary celebration, the NBL Namibia Ambassador programme aims to recognise Namibians who have won international achievements for the country. This includes achievements in the area of academia, sports, entertainment, entrepreneurship and service to humanity.
